

Implement in C++ an ADT Priority Queue with generic values (void*). Use for representation a dynamic array. Implement only the operations: init, destroy, push, pop, size, isEmpty. Write a C++ program that reads n complex Orders (number, content) (sorting criteria= order number), add them to queue and then print the first three orders that should be satisfied.